

January 23, 2024

Communications Workshop: Preparing for 2024

The 2024 election cycle is underway, and our first workshop of the year is designed to prepare your office to communicate effectively no matter the situation. The Elections Group shares its top election-year communications planning tips and other guidance. Whether you're new to election communications or looking to refine your existing strategies, this workshop will equip you with tips and tools to help you and your office succeed.

Original link: <https://electionsgroup.com/communications-workshop-preparing-for-2024/>