

November 6, 2024

Amid threats and harassment, California election workers persist to protect our vote

“Election officials are also transparent. They engage in voter outreach and voter education efforts within their communities. They test voting equipment publicly using bipartisan teams, so that voters know equipment is accurate. In fact, they perform many processes using bipartisan teams, including retrieving ballots from drop boxes, reviewing signatures on mail ballots and certifying election results.”

Read more from Tina Barton and Tommy Gong in Cal Matters

Original link: <https://electionsgroup.com/amid-threats-and-harassment-california-election-workers-persist-to-protect-our-vote/>